

SPS COMMERCE

Dear valued customer,

As you heard earlier today from Angela Hariohoedojo, SPS Commerce has acquired Leadtec. I want to take this opportunity to personally welcome you to our community. Angela has been appointed General Manager – Australia, and will continue to lead the Leadtec team in Australia.

You can be confident that little will change in your day-to-day relationship with Leadtec. Your company can continue to use Leadtec's cloud-based supply chain solutions. In addition, your support and pricing will remain unchanged. As part of the SPS Commerce community, you can now access the industry's largest retail business network, and our world-class retail cloud services and platform.

While most aspects of your relationship with Leadtec will stay the same, SPS Commerce brings substantial new capabilities and services that can advance your supply chain performance, including:

- Access to industry-leading supply chain integration services used by more than 55,000 customers in more than 50 countries, with more than 1,800 prebuilt connections to retailers, grocers and distributors.
- Market-leading omnichannel solutions for fulfillment, item management, supply chain analytics and sourcing.
- Integration with more than 100 leading accounting/ERP, warehouse management, and packing and shipping applications.
- Expanded capabilities for integrating with global supply chain partners, such as third-party logistics providers (3PLs), international sourcing companies and factories.
